DETAILED ACTION

Status of Application, Amendments and/or Claims

The amendments of 03 February 2006 and 30 March 2006 have been entered in full.

Claims 4, 14, 15, 24, 25, 34, 37, 38, 42-44 are amended.

Claims 1-49 are pending in the instant application.

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species of interleukin 11 are as follows:

- a. human IL-11 and human IL-11 SEQ ID NOs
- b. macaque IL-11 and macaque IL-11 SEQ ID NOs
- c. mouse IL-11 and mouse IL-11 SEQ ID NOs
- d. rat IL-11 and rat IL-11 SEQ ID NOs

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:
3, 4, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15-23, 25, 27, 29, 31, 33

The following claim(s) are generic: 1, 2, 5, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 24, 26, 28, 30, 34-49.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature of (a) is human IL-11 and SEQ ID NOs specific for human IL-11. Human IL-11 and the human IL-11 SEQ ID NOs encompassed within the instant claims are structurally diverse, unique amino acid sequences and require a unique search of the prior art. This special technical feature is not shared by the other species.

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species of disease or condition to be treated by the IL-11 mutein drug are as follows:

- e. an inflammatory disease or condition
- f. a septic shock
- g. diabetes
- h. microvascular endothelium apoptosis
- i. thrombocytopenia

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

The following claim(s) are generic: 2, 44.

6. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature of (e) is inflammatory disease or condition, which has a different pathophysiology from each of the other species. This special technical feature is not shared by the other species.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
